Bolt blitzes 100 m in record 9.63 sec

LONDON—Four years later, still no one can catch Usain Bolt.

He is still No. 1, still the Olympic champion at 100 meters, still the fastest man alive, still history's greatest sprinter, still unmatched in his starting ability to tear to the moment.

Having completed his work on Sunday night in 9.63 seconds, an Olympic record, the second-fastest time ever run, Bolt put on a celebratory dance for the 80,000 people in the stadium and the millions more watching from afar.

His performance, after all, had happened just hours before Jamaica's 50th anniversary of independence from Britain, a combination of events that gave rise to celebrations from Britain to Kingston.

"My boy!" Ingrid Burton shouted as she watched Bolt run on television at Petroleum.

Church aghast as bill nears approval

By Lella B. Salazar
and Michael Lino Ulloa

WITH RESOUNDING "ayes," the contentious debates on the reproductive health (RH) bill came to an abrupt end yesterday in the House of Representatives, just hours after President Aquino summoned congressmen to the Palace and pleaded to bring the measure forward to its second stage.

This means the controversial population control measure would now go through a period of amendments, before it is put to a vote on second reading on the floor.

For the first time since 1988, congressmen agreed to approach their Chief Justice Benito Sison in his official capacity as a Japanese politician, lawmakers were to launch in the Palace yesterday to attend to yet another priority administration project.

Thus, they heard Mr. Aquino make what was considered the most important speech of the day.

Robotic explorer lands on Mars

PASADENA, California—in a show of technological mastery, the robotic explorer Curiosity landed through the pink skies of Mars, steering its glow to a gentle landing inside a giant crater for the most ambitious dig yet into the red planet's past.

A chorus of cheers and applause echoed through the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) Jet Propulsion Laboratory on Sunday night after the most high-tech interplanetary rover ever built signaled it had survived a harrowing plunge through the thin Martian atmosphere.

"Touchdown confirmed," said explorer Allen Chen. "We're safe on Mars."

IBP junks De Lima plea anew; it's now JBC's call

By Christine O. Avendaño

JUSTICE Secretary Leila de Lima is now counting on the Judicial and Bar Council (JBC) to keep her nomination as Chief Justice alive after the Integrated Bar of the Philippines (IBP) denied more yesterday her appeal for the dismissal of the disbarment cases against her.

"So that as it may, I have already stated in my letter to the JBC that I leave (my fate) to the council," De Lima said yesterday after learning that the IBP had thrown out her appeal.

Palawan gov said hiding in Vietnam

PUERTO PRINCIDA CITY—Former Philippine Gov. Joel T. Reyes managed to slip out of the country on March 18 via Cebu Pacific (flight 575) bound for Vietnam, according to highly placed government sources.

Byers and his brother Martin, mayor of Carson, have been in hiding since accounts of recent assassinations.

Check on March 27 for the number of follow-up journalist and environmentalist queries.

The information given in media was that Ryan was able to slip through immigration using a false passport bearing the name Joseph Lee. He had carrying his real photograph. The passport was successfully issued by the Department

The Onga family has declined to be interviewed on this report.

"We will have to file criminal law lawyers because this may have some bearing on the ongoing case," Michaelis says. The victim's daughter, said to be in her 20s, will be present.

Byers was indicted by the grand jury of Justice in February

One year later an arbitrator said he had ordered the hit on Orsaga, a man who said wrote off his admission.

Seyou and his brother, claiming innocence, went into hiding as their lawyers tried to appeal their case in the Court of Appeals. Debraigne R. Aduke, Inquirer South-west editor.

THE RH BILL

(Attention Senators and Members of the House of Representatives)

This divisive bill makes a mockery of Filipino values and culture for its anti-life provisions. It perpetuates policies that are anti-Filipino, anti-family and anti-life.

- They claim that the RH bill does not seek to legalize abortion. ON THE CONTRARY, IT ALLOWS FOR BACKROOM LEGALIZATION OF ABORTION THAT IS STATE-SPONSORED. (S.B. No. 2865 Section 3 i. and H.B. No. 4244 Section 3 i.)
- They claim that the RH bill is pro-family, pro-women, pro-health. IN REALITY, THE BILL IS A FOREIGN DICTATED POLICY WITH UNITED NATION OFFICIALS CALLING ON GOVERNMENTS TO PASS LAWS THAT SKIRT 'RESTRICTIVE' ABORTION LAWS.
- They claim that the RH bill is pro-poor. IN TRUTH, SOME P3 BILLION IN PUBLIC FUNDS WILL BE WASTED IN PROCURING SO-CALLED ESSENTIAL MEDICINES LIKE CONDOMS, PILLS, IUDS—MONEY WHICH COULD HAVE BEEN USED TO ADDRESS CLASSROOM SHORTAGE, PROMOTE AGRICULTURE, SOCIAL HOUSING ETC.
- They claim that the bill institutionalizes maternal and child health care services. ON THE CONTRARY, MATERNAL AND CHILD HEALTH CARE PROGRAMS ARE ALREADY CONTAINED IN THE MAGNA CARTA FOR WOMEN AND OTHER RELATED LAWS. THE PROBLEM IS IMPLEMENTATION, NOT NEW LEGISLATION.
- They claim that the RH bill will solve poverty. IN TRUTH, THE SOLUTION TO POVERTY IS NOT POPULATION CONTROL BUT CONTROLLING GREED AND CORRUPTION, AND PRACTICING GOOD GOVERNANCE.

Genuine Ocampo paintings

I WRITE to you in reaction to Gil Reyes' July 16 (Amparo article titled "Serious doubts cast on newly uncovered cache of 18 Ocampo paintings," which implied that the works that I have authorized are not my father's).

Let me state for the record that I, Norma Ocampo-Flores, the daughter and the most-recognized administrator of the estate of the late National Artist Fernando R. Ocampo, lived with my father in the same residence until his death in 1976. I acted as his personal attorney and served him in various capacities during his lifetime. I authorized the paintings featured in the book that I personally saw my father create these works of art.

I take offense in the article as it seems to attack and ruin my reputation as well as my father's. I assure the public that the paintings I authorized are genuine creations of my father's.

The alleged dubious origins of these works of art have tainted our family's good name and tarnished the memory of my father.

The sponsored art studies are valuable to the industry, however, such opinions cannot go to the detriment of works of art. It saddens me and my family that these works have been used in the author's story of my father's works, considering Reyes' status in the art community.

I request that in the spirit of fair play this letter be given some space and publicity in the article of Reyes. The allegations and accusations of the article, as well as its many more errors, are damaging to my family's reputation.

PHL cosponsor of resolution on Internet rights

THIS REFERS to the article titled "Internet freedom and net DPP?" (Inquirer, 5/22/12) which stated that "senators, the Philippines joined with China and North Korea against Internet freedom," referring to Resolution A-1982-2011, 11 on the promotion, protection and expansion of human rights on the Internet.

Contrary to this assertion, the Philippines, along with all other countries, supported the resolution. It was adopted without a vote on July 5, 2011. The Philippines voted on this issue in accordance with the constitutional guarantee on freedom of expression.

The fact is noted on page 10 of the report of the session of the 22nd Session of the Human Rights Council.

Death claim pending with SSS for almost 2 years

ON OCT. 11, 2010, I sent a letter to Emilio de Ocampo, president and chief executive officer of the Social Security System, on behalf of my daughter, Marlene Calanan, 34 years, whom I married, Gaudin M. Jansen (SSS No. 61360434-1) died on June 1, 2010. Unfortunately, I called his attention to the delayed release of my daughter's claim for the death benefits of her late husband, as provided by the SSS benefit office. He estimated all the documents pertaining to her death.

More than two years have passed and as of now has been denied by the benefit office. June 1 benefits entered my daughter to Laura M. Marlene, but still there has been no action. I even wrote and it takes two times about the production of my daughter. But I received no reply.

My daughter is in dire straits. In order to survive with her two children she sold her house. Please will she make her progress of getting her legitimate claim?

Interfaith Group's Statement of Support for the Reproductive Health Bill

We, the members of the Interfaith Partnership for the Promotion of Responsible Parenthood, Inc. (IPPRP), composed of various faith-based organizations, aspiring to strengthen the institutions of marriage and family life, journey with the Filipino people to build a better nation.

We are disturbed by the recent discourses on the proposed Responsible Parenthood and Reproductive Health (RP/RH) bill that tend to divide instead of cultivate healthy debates among faith-based groups, academia, government, and civil society organizations to freely discuss science- and evidence-based information as the basis for an intelligent decision.

After deep reflection and prayer, we have come to realize not to dwell on divisive debates but focus on more proactive actions on how we can address the issues of poverty, hunger, humanitarian crises caused by natural calamities and hazards, gender inequality, inadequate healthcare and other social problems brought about or exacerbated by unmanaged population growth.

Convinced by the veracity of the empirical evidence shown to us by experts and the scientific community, we intensify our call to the country's leaders to work for the welfare and dignity of the Filipino people.

We urge our legislators to seriously push for the passage of the long-overdue RP/RH bill toward its immediate implementation. We believe that the bill is truly pro-life, pro-family, pro-poor, and pro-national development. This is the legacy that you, our leaders, will be remembered by the Filipino people for generations to come. Furthermore, we call upon President Aquino to diligently work on a sound population policy, of which the RP/RH bill is the principal instrument.

As leaders of various faiths, we reaffirm our commitment to journey with our leaders and all Filipinos to work on this legacy and fulfill the common mission for a better tomorrow. We are one with the whole nation in its fight to improve the quality of life for each and every Filipino.

Moro breakaway rebels stage simultaneous attacks; 3 dead

Peace talks won't be derailed, says Malacañang

DAVU, SALTIN, MAGUINDANAO—Averting the loss of a commander, Moro breakaway rebels simultaneously attacked Army detachments in seven towns in Maguindanao and North Cotabato shortly before Sunday midnight.

The attacks left a civilian and two soldiers dead, four soldiers wounded, and thousands of civilians fleeing their homes.

Under cover of darkness, members of the Philippine Islamic Front (PIF), a militant group, attacked the Moro Islamic Liberation Front (MILF) stronghold town of Davau in Maguindanao. Philex gold mine suspended over spill

The government has indefinitely suspended the operations of the country's largest gold mine after a waste spill into a major river, officials said on Monday.

Philex Mining's Pampanga facility will remain closed until a government investigation determines the extent of the spill and what it happened, said an official.

"It is a seriously suspended indefinitely," he said.

The spill occurred on Sunday when a waste truck overturned, spilling its load of waste into the river.

No review on non-call; Parks shines

By James W. Poy

UNIVERSITY of the Philippines still has time to move on from referee pulled from the non-call on the groundbreaking violation in its recent game "because he's a coach he's review," a UMAP official said yesterday.

The referee, however, who lost four of those five games by just an average of three points—had been accused by the non-call in their own setback to the PBA season last July 20-70, last Sunday.

A video replay in the arena showed that the block of RBG's Anthony Mangrove on UP's George Higinio was a grounding violation, but coachman Aron Blandin said yesterday that such call cannot be reversed.

The incident occurred with the Maroons trailing, 66-70, with just three minutes to go.

"Grounding last order judgment call" reason is reviewed on a basis for a protest," said Blandin.

UP coach Rolly Tanchico said the non-call resulted loss of the Maroons' breakthrough loss to Adamson last week, 69-67, where a non-call on a charging foul by Adamson's Arnelo Cruz in the deciding seconds led to Bobby Bonifacio's game-winning shot.

"I talked to (Blandin) immediately after the game, he said that we do not have rules on reviewing a grounding violation," said Tanchico. "We are all very disappointed because that is the second time that we were denied an opportunity to win."

The Maroons will try to end their three-game losing bid against Adamson tonight at the University of the East in San Diego.

Meanwhile, National University are top Punks tagged the UMAP Free Corps Fights of the North match after leading the Bulldogs to their first back-to-back wins this season.

Punks, last season's Most Valuable Player, is again among the early candidates in the top individual plays after leading the league in points (16.3 ppg) and assists (5.5 apg) in six games.

"You're only judged to your last game as you always have to maintain the team," said Punks.

He led in the clutch, Punks shot 17 points when the Bulldogs squared off against NU's University of the East in a 61-57 upset last Thursday.

Punks also collected 12 points, 11 rebounds and five assists in the Bulldogs' 77-61 demolition of Adamson last Sunday to clinch the weekly season given by sports courts according to the college basketball and A-101.

In another development, the league is scheduled to conduct its annual All-Star game which will be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday for the next two weeks due to season availability.

BOGOT: John Ponce provided the Cards of inspiration on a home-changed Prequel of July 23-24, last night in a two-game slate in the 2012 NCAA basketball tournament at Mind Trips Arena.

Poking up the field in his team's season continued to struggle, the steady guard from Davao punched in 12 points, guided a career-high 13 rebounds and dished out six assists as the Cards improved 6-5-5.

Later, a disheartened Stags upset against San Sebastian, 60-54, in close to a day of games.

The Cardinals, missing three key players, hung on in the face of a better Stags unit in the last three minutes to win a three-point game.

James Hiram and Mike Dethin denied the Cardinals that gave the Cards with enough cushion to move off a 14-point deficit to lose with 30 seconds remaining.

It was San Sebastian's last loss of 67-59 in overtime and the Stags' second overall, meaning their spring-day first to last.

More than the scoring, it was their health.

that helped propel the Cards, who overcame the Atlas, 24-44, in the last five minutes, in just 10 of the open.

"Cards (John Ponce) really can't stop to stop because some of my teammates are injured," said Ponce, a transfer from Holy Cross College. "We just need to end the first round strong."

The Cards were also looking to hit the spirits of Basil, who is coach The Cards had beaten in the 16th game, last night in Game 1 of the PBA-Governor Cup Series at White Lady 24 hours before the game.

"So happy the players responded to the challenges," said Ponce. "We're very happy to have (Coach George T. Linares)."

The loss marked a new game winning team for the Atlas, who snapped their first round record 4-3 and 4-3.

The Atlas came into the game with a 4-3 record in a tough season to put away some of the stretch, having won three games under those points or less.

He made his debut in the game, scoring 10 points, 10 rebounds and 10 assists.

HE MADE HIS DEBUT in the game, scoring 10 points, 10 rebounds and 10 assists.

Interest rates seen to stay low up to '15

By Michelle K. Rame

THE ENVIRONMENT of moderate inflation and low interest rates the Philippines currently enjoys may persist for two to three more years, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) said.

For the year-end rate, the central bank expects inflation to rise within 2 to 3 percent range.

By the end of the year, inflation averaged at 1.1 percent, keeping the full-year target range of 1 to 3 percent.

"Given what is happening in the global economy and commodity prices, and considering macroeconomic management in the Philippines, we do not expect a collapse in the inflation rate," it stressed.

It said that should inflation rate indeed be maintained, the BSP would have the flexibility to keep interest rates low.

Currently, the central bank's key policy rate, which influences commercial bank lending rates, stood at historic lows of 3.75 and 3.25 percent, respectively.

Because of the still lackluster growth of the global economy and the prolonged debt crisis in the euro zone, demand for goods and services from those economies remains weak. As such, prices of commodities internationally are rising only moderately, if not accelerating. Oil prices, for instance, have strengthened this year.

Given declining prices of oil and increasing the moderate increase in prices of other imported goods, increase in the overall consumer price in the Philippines is expected to stay modest, it stressed.

This trend is expected to continue as the euro zone is to have some partly but clear global economic problems are not expected to be solved soon.

The BSP chief also said significant liquidity within the Philippine economy is also expected to help keep inflation low even over the next few years.

On one hand, he said, the Philippine banking system continues to enjoy growing profits and surpluses. As such, they are likely to keep extending more loans to business, thereby helping growth through supply of goods and services.

On the other, he stressed, low interest rates will encourage banks to extend loans to finance their investment plans.

It stressed also that the BSP is prepared to adjust monetary policy to maintain low inflation in the country even as the economy continues to grow.

Meralco accredits contractors to assist customers

Chosen providers carry best practices, badge of excellence

A elite group of service providers recently received Meralco's badge of excellence and integrity as they were inducted as Accredited Meralco Contractors (AMC) to help customers get electricity faster and manage their power needs better.

Meralco officers joined guests from various industry groups to witness the inaugural induction ceremony at the Meralco Multipurpose Hall, AHC, a top accreditation program that inducts and drives Meralco's best practices among energy service providers, contractors, developers and designers who are endorsed by Meralco.

Meralco Senior VP for Customer A. Reyes, who is Head of the AME Business Group, said the AHC program seeks to provide customers the highest quality service by empowering the contractors as its elite business partners with Meralco.

"Importance puts in mind business owners as they start up or expand their business. At the same time, they don't want to be surprised by substantial work, unexplained expenses and costly work," he said.

"With AMCA coordinating with Meralco, technicians are now customer on multiple and aligned to its as highest technical and safety standards," he added.

Meralco Senior VP for Technical A. Salas, who is Head of Home & Micro Business Central Area, explained that AMCA takes responsibility for processing requirements and permits as well as technical needs to service applications.

"Detail experts who are industry at aligned also as business partners at standards of Meralco, non-ambly on any process as pop-up apply as keyway part as small business is making as they more experienced," he said. "Indeed, customers need to deal with a lot of people and efforts in processing their requirements for a Meralco service application. It was a tedious and time-consuming effort especially for customers with projects in multiple locations."

"Given, not least that we are going to go up to 400,000 new connections in the next five years, we need to have a lot of people and efforts in processing their requirements for a Meralco service application. It was a tedious and time-consuming effort especially for customers with projects in multiple locations."

There's a science to successful relationships

By Anne R. Jankins

YOU CAN make anyone fall in love with you, Anne.

It is, in fact, easy to do—so long as you understand interpersonal and successful language, identify individual personality and modeling, and know how to mirror their words and beliefs, that is. There are three a science to the mating call.

Carolee Lee Mangaling, "Chief guide" (president) of Transformation, isn't about the person we are most familiar with—ourselves—talking to someone who is not us. She is about the person we are most familiar with—ourselves—talking to someone who is not us.

By understanding personality types and aiming for better communication, you can relate better to coworkers, friends, family and even lovers, say these professional trainers—

ing. "We are in the center! And not that the happiness of every relationship!"

Transformation and Mangaling, "Chief guide" (president) of Transformation, isn't about the person we are most familiar with—ourselves—talking to someone who is not us. She is about the person we are most familiar with—ourselves—talking to someone who is not us.

Mangaling is one of the most in-demand trainers in the country. She is also the only Women's Empowerment Program (WEP) trainer and is only certifying authority in the Philippines. Billy Corgan ...

I don't care no grade because it's only what the critics who don't belong in the conversation. Let's just say my grade does matter.

The Banding Pampanga will be "Step Up" in show at the Big Dome. For two hours before the show, each band member will be meeting, sharing, playing and interacting in Manila. These moves will be recorded in a documentary by awarding thoughts and supported by prize winners. You are encouraged to bring their photos of the show taking the 2012's banding. The best photos will be selected by the band. (The show is presented by Zentia Arts. Call 9617-8333/8334 for prices.)
